THIRTEENTH YEAR

WELLSVILLE GETS SHARE OF BEET MONEY

Party Held For Sidney Wyatt Who Leaves Soon For a Mission in Great Britain

Wellsville, Nov. 16.—Our farmers were certainly made happy yesterday upon receiving a large amount of money in payment for their sugar beets which they have delivered to the sugar factory or loaded on the cars here during the month of October. Many thousands of dollars is brought into our city every year through this great industry. Our merchants are also made happy when this money comes as they receive a good share of it which enables them to pay their obligations and hence we are all made happy together.

Sidney Wyatt, one of our highly respected young men left a few days ago for the British mission to perform missionary service for the L. D. S. church. He was given a farewell party in the Wellsville pavilion last week. A large crowd turned out to show respect to him and to bid him farewell and wish him good speed on his journey. A purse of $112 was presented to him, also to assist him on his mission.

Elder Henry Parker will leave here for the Northwestern States mission about December 8.

William H. Maughan had the misfortune of having a horse kick him a few days ago and as result he is now confined to his room nursing a very sore and painful leg. He expects, however, to be able to attend to his store work in the course of a few days.

There is considerable sickness in town at the present time, such as coughs, colds, sore throats, etc., but nothing very serious.

Cards are out announcing the wedding of William B. Maughan, of Wellsville, and Miss Isabelle Child, of Salt Lake City. The marriage to be performed in the Salt Lake Temple on Thanksgiving Day.

Additional Locals

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Reese are the proud parents of a fine son born yesterday morning.

D. M. Bickmore of Paradise is in town, having been summoned as a witness in the case of Farrell versus the O. L. & I. Railway Co.

Word comes from Franklin that a fine girl was born yesterday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Christensen of that place.

By following the advertising in The Logan Republican, our patrons will be able to get some real bargains between now and Christmas. The live merchants are all advertising.

Two persons, residents of Trenton were apprehended on Tuesday for alleged bootlegging, but after having been brought to Logan, they were released by order of the district attorney who found the evidence against them insufficient.

John Bissenger, the Providence lad who broke his mother's jaw in a fit of anger, and who was later sentenced to four months in jail, is in the cooler once more. It will be remembered that after serving a small part of his time he escaped, but yesterday he boarded an interurban train at Wellsville and the sheriff happened to be on the train and nabbed him.

The many attractive sales which have been run in the knit goods line at the local factories were responsible for bringing several persons to town yesterday from out of town. Among those here from Richmond were Mr. and Mrs. Sampson Webb, Dr. and Mrs. Leo Shepard, Mrs. Frank Thomson, Mrs. Albert Thompson, Mrs. Bert Danford, Fred Dine, Mrs. Jack Murdock, Albert Day, Eli Webb, James Bateman Mrs. Thomas Plant, and Ute E. Griffin.

ANNUAL "AG" BALL UNIQUE SOCIAL EVENT

The Model Farm Was Represented in All Its Varied Aspects. A Large Crowd Present

One of the unique social events of the college year was the Annual Ag. Club ball given Monday night. The hall was comfortably crowded with students and townspeople. The decorations were strictly bucolic in character, representing the activities of the club. In one corner a mammoth "A" topped by a big bunch of carrots, was constructed from farm produce, another spot was made to represent a model farm yard with all of the usual pens and silos and barns included, from another booth, Horticulture club served big red apples and the remaining corner portrayed the comforts of the home fire place. Refreshments in the form of butter-milk fruit punch and cracker animals completed the agricultural effect of the dance.

RED CROSS MAY NOT SHIP ANY SUPPLIES

German Reports Says End of Blockade May Be Demanded by Society

Berlin, Nov. 16.—The semi official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung publishes a letter written by the American Red Cross to the president of the German Red Cross, the Overseas News agency announces, "stating that the American Red Cross was unable to send certain medical supplies to Germany because the British government refused permission for the exportation."

"The letter adds that the Red Cross organization will now make direct application to the British government for permission to forward the shipments, and declares that if it fails to obtain the required permission to send supplies to German hospitals no further supplies will be sent to any country, as the American Red Cross holds the view that articles which cannot be sent to all countries cannot be sent to any one."

REORGANIZATION OF MISSOURI PACIFIC

New York, Nov. 16.—Edwin Gould announced today that unless material modifications are made in the proposed reorganization plan of the Missouri Pacific railway by which holders of the convertible first and refunding 5 per cent bonds due in 1959 and the 40 year gold 4 per cent bonds, due in 1945, are requested to exchange their bonds for preferred stock in the new company, he would be unwilling to deposit his own or the holdings of the Gould estate and representing about 23 per cent of the convertible issue, and 8 per cent of the 40 year gold notes.

Mr. Gould termed the present plan prejudicial to the best interests of the holders of these issues and said the plan should be so modified as to give the bond holders a lien on the property of the new company which will be prior to or at least on an equality with any new mortgage to be given by the company to its stockholders for money advanced to pay assessments on the stock.

[While the Teuton forces reported an unbroken series of successes against the Serbians in the north of the invaded country of the latter, the Bulgarians allies of the Germans and Austrians were less successful in opposing the northward advance of the French and British from Saloniki. The map shows a narrow tongue of Bulgarian land thrust between Serbia and Greece. In this lies Strumitza, and near Strumitza there has been hot fighting. General Bailoud, commander of the French soldiers operating north of Saloniki, is seen here chatting with members of his staff.]

31 MINERS DIE IN COAL MINE NEAR SEATTLE

Rescue Crews, With Oxygen Helmets Forced to Abandon Work on Account of Heat

Seattle, Nov. 16.—Thirty-one men were killed today by an explosion of coal dust in the Northwestern Improvement company's coal mine at Ravensdale, 35 miles southeast of Seattle. Tonight the mine was burning and there was little hope of recovering twenty-eight bodies remaining in the mine before tomorrow.

The bodies of three men have been recovered and three injured have been brought safely to the surface, where they were resuscitated by the use of pulmotors.

The body of P. J. Kane, foreman of the third level, 1500 feet below the surface, where the explosion occurred was found seated in the chair before his desk just within the entrance to the third level. He had been burned to death. The rescuers were unable to remove his body because of the intense heat in the level which was on fire.

Trained rescue men rushed to the mine from Seattle and from Roslyn and Clelum were able, by wearing oxygen helmets, to penetrate far enough into the mine to see the bodies of the entombed men lying in the mine, but could not get to them because of the wreckage and the heat.

It was thought certain, mine officials said that all were dead.

Late tonight, after the rescue team had ascertained that all remaining in the mine were dead, Supt. R. D. Scott ordered that efforts to penetrate the mine further be abandoned temporarily and crews were put to work clearing away the wreckage so fire could be extinguished and the bodies recovered.

From the time the explosion occurred until late tonight, scores of women and children who had relatives in the mine crowded silently around the blackened shaft, awaiting word from those laboring within to reach the entombed. Even after word was passed around that all were given up for lost, the women waited, hoping that the next trip of the cage would bring up the bodies of their loved ones.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. The mine was well equipped with safety appliances and was considered one of the safest in the state.

Telegrams Flood Governor's Office on Hillstrom Case

Salt Lake, Nov. 16.—Twenty-seven telegrams and probably twice as many letters, all either petitioning for clemency in the Hillstrom case or threatening state officials if clemency is not granted, were received this morning at the office of Governor William Spry. After a brief inspection they were all consigned to the general collection received during the past two months, and no more notice was taken of them than of the others.

The telegrams, Governor Spry said were of the usual stereotyped form and indicated to him that they had been of a common origin though they were addressed from different cities. They contained mostly appeals for clemency in Hillstrom's case, he said with threats in the event that the petitions are ignored and Hillstrom is executed.

All arrangements for the execution of Hillstrom Friday morning have been completed by the sheriff. The law provides that a man condemned shall be shot or hanged between sunrise and sunset on the day set. While the sheriff has not revealed the exact hour when Hillstrom will be shot to death, it is expected the execution will take place as soon after sunrise as possible.

Hillstrom elected to be shot. The same firing squad will be used as was selected by the sheriff several weeks ago, before it was known that Hillstrom would be given a respite.

Dr. James B. Murphy of Rockefeller Institute Finds a Possible Cure For the Disease

New York, Nov. 16.—Hope was held out for cancer sufferers by Dr. James B. Murphy of the Rockefeller Institute in an address delivered by him to day to the members of the National Academy of Sciences now in session here.

Dr. Murphy said that the scientists of the institute had tried treating resulted in making the subjects immune from the return of the growth. This was found to be so both in the cases of spontaneous and grafted cancers. According to the speaker, this was the first time a use has been found for the white cells.

While this process is only on the experimental stage, Dr. Murphy said he expected it to prove valuable in practical treatment of cancerous patients.

FRENCH MINISTRY OF INVENTIONS

Its Work Is Fully Described by Prof. Paul Painleve, Head of the New Department

Paris, Nov. 16.—The work of the new ministry of inventions was described today by Prof. Paul Painleve head of the department. The minister explained that hitherto many well equipped laboratories and scientists identified with them had played no part in preparations for national defense. It is his purpose to mobilize them.

The first and greatest difficulty with which the department has to contend, Prof. Painleve explained, is the enormous number of useless inventions. All must be tested and the work must be done rapidly. Those picked out as having possibilities are referred to special sections such as electricity or aviation under the direction of two or three young and active experts, who investigate them thoroughly. Such inventions as are deemed practicable are then turned over to specialists who assist the inventors to put on the finishing touches.

At the same time the question of manufacturing the new appliances is considered. Finally, their applicability for military purposes is determined by representatives of the war of marine ministries. If approved by them the inventions are taken over and the work of Prof. Painleve's department is at an end.

Inventions are welcomed, whether from world famed scientists or workmen. The variety dealt with is immense, varying from a slight improvement in the pivot of a machine gun to the most abstruse applications of modern physics.
